

FOUR FREEDOMS SUMMER PROGRAM 2016 The Netherlands

The Four Freedoms Summer Program is an annual series of human rights courses for students and practitioners. The program encapsulates Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt's fundamental values of human rights and global citizenship.

Franklin D. Roosevelt's Four Freedoms:

- Freedom of speech and expression
- Freedom of worship
- Freedom from want
- Freedom from fear

The Four Freedoms were a major inspiration for the modern human rights movement and were incorporated in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (1948) as drafted by the UN .

2016 Course Offerings in Middelburg (University College Roosevelt), The Netherlands

Human Rights in Practice: Working in the Field

20 – 24 June 2016 (5 days)

~

Media and Human Rights

27 June – 1 July 2016 (5 days)

~

Teaching Global Citizenship (in Dutch)

27– 30 June 2016 (4 days)

Early Registration Deadline: 1 June 2016

Find out more and register at www.hrea.org/four-freedoms.

2016

Human Rights in Practice: Working in the Field

20 – 24 June 2016 (5 days)

Middelburg (University College Roosevelt),
The Netherlands

~

Are you interested in working in the international field of human rights? This week-long course will introduce advanced undergraduate and graduate students to what it means to work in organisations, institutions, networks and movements that defend and promote human rights. Students will interact with guest lecturers from NGOs, the UN and other inter-governmental agencies, law firms, and national human rights institutions.

Media and Human Rights

27 June – 1 July 2016 (5 days)

Middelburg (University College
Roosevelt), The Netherlands

~

This course equips both journalism students, journalists, editors and other media professionals with the knowledge and skills to report through a human rights framework. Through a combination of classroom hours and round table discussions with editors and journalists, participants will gain an understanding of press freedom, freedom of expression, gender and reporting, reporting in conflicts, digital privacy and security, and how international human rights norms, standards and principles provide a framework for reporting.

Teaching Global Citizenship (Dutch course)

27 – 30 June 2016 (4 days)

Middelburg (University College Roosevelt), The Netherlands

~

This course introduces the European field of education for democratic citizenship and human rights education, including the presentation of programming approaches, teaching and learning resources, and related theory. The course is tailored to Dutch-speaking educators and trainers working in both the formal and non-formal sectors.

Register by 1 June 2016 for Early Registration Rate.

